

Always

Andy Grammer

You and me will be always
I'll be honest, there's a lot of things that I don't know
So much journeys out of our control
And the hardest thing could be learning to let go Cause there's a short short list of people in it for the long hold You see, your clothes your shoes and your best friend
They ain't gonna stay the same
Your reckless years and your missed age
I promise you they'll fade away
But trust me, the one thing
That nothing in this world can change
Is you and me will be always
Always
You and me will be always
Gotta love all the virgins
Or be something you try
Let you grow through your phases
Cheer you on from the side
And the sweetest thing is knowing that you've got love
From the short short list of the people in it for the long haul You see, your clothes your shoes
and your best friend
They ain't gonna stay the same
Your reckless years and your missed age
I promise you they'll fade away
But trust me, the one thing
That nothing in this world can change
Is you and me will be always
Always
You and me will be always
I'm gonna be, I'm gonna be your always always
I'm gonna be, I'm gonna be your always always
I'm gonna be, I'm gonna be your always always I'm gonna be, I'm gonna be your always always You see, your clothes your shoes and your best friend
They ain't gonna stay the same
Your reckless years and your missed age
I promise you they'll fade away
But trust me, the one thing
that nothing in this world can change
Is you and me will be always
Always
You and me will be always
