

Bones

Radiohead

I don't want to be crippled and cracked
Shoulders, wrists, knees and back
Ground to dust and ash
Crawling on all fours When you've got to feel it in your bones
When you've got to feel it in your bones Now I can't climb the stairs
Pieces missing everywhere
Prozac painkillers When you've got to feel it in your bones
When you've got to feel it in your bones And I used to fly like Peter Pan
All the children flew when I touched their hands
Listen, you've got to feel it in your bones
Listen, you've got to feel it in your bones
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>