

Another Place

Bastille & Alessia Cara

I am bound to you,
With a tie that we cannot break.
With a night that we can't replace.
I'm lost but found with you,
In a bed that we'll never make.
It's a feeling we always chase. I can write a book about the things that you said to me on the pillow and the way you think and how you make me feel.
You can fill my mind and move my body with the fiction, fantasies
Just call this what it is,
We don't pretend it's real. So, don't make promises to me that you're gonna break.
We only ever wanted one thing from this.
Don't paint wonderful lies on me that wash away.
We only ever wanted one thing from this.
Oh, in another place,
In another time, what could we have been?
Oh, in another place,
In another time, what could we have been? Mmmm,
In another time and in another place, So lie to me tonight,
And pretend till the morning light,
And imagine that you are mine.
'Cause when the sun will rise
With the truth coming out your eyes.
We'll be good in another life. I can write a book about the things that you said to me on the pillow and the way you think and how you make me feel.
You can fill my mind and move my body with the fiction, fantasies.
Just call this what it is,
We don't pretend it's real.
So, don't make promises to me that you're gonna break.
We only ever wanted one thing from this.
Don't paint wonderful lies on me that wash away.
We only ever wanted one thing from this. Oh, in another place,
In another time, what could we have been?
Oh, in another place,
In another time, what could we have been? It look like something special but it never felt like love.
Wonder what we could be living in another life.
Catch us in the mirror and it looks a lot like love.
Then you stopped me talking as you kissed me from above. So, don't make promises to me that you're gonna break.
We only ever wanted one thing from this.
Don't paint wonderful lies on me that wash away.
We only ever wanted one thing from this. Oh, in another place,

In another time, what could we have been?
Oh, in another place,
In another time, what could we have been? Oh, yeah.
In another time and in another place.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>