

Gun Song

The Lumineers

I don't own a single gun but if I did you'd be the one To hold it, aim it, make all of the bad men run but I don't own a single gun And I don't have a sweetheart yet but if I did I'd break my neck To please her, make her wanna stay, in my arms she'd rest but I don't have a sweetheart yet I can't believe what I found in daddy's sock drawer, sock drawer today
It was a pistol, a Smith & Wesson, holy holy shit Things I knew when I was young Some were true and some were wrong
And one day I pray I'll be more than my father's son but I don't own a single gun
