

Remember Everything

Five Finger Death Punch

Dear mother, I love you
I'm sorry, I wasn't good enough
Dear father, forgive me
'Cause in your eyes I just never added up
In my heart I know I failed you
But you left me here alone If I could hold back the rain
Would you numb the pain?
'Cause I remember
Everything
If I could help you forget
Would you take my regrets?
'Cause I remember
Everything
Oh dear brother, just don't hate me
For never standing by you or being by your side
Dear sister, please don't blame me
I only did what I thought was truly right
It's a long and lonely road When you know you walk alone If I could hold back the rain
Would you numb the pain?
'Cause I remember
Everything If I could help you forget
Would you take my regrets?
'Cause I remember
Everything
I feel like running away
I'm still so far from home
You say that I'll never change
But what the fuck do you know?
I'll burn it all to the ground before I let you win
Please forgive me
I can't forgive you now I remember everything If I could hold back the rain
Would you numb the pain?
'Cause I remember
Everything If I could help you forget
Would you take my regrets?
'Cause I remember
Everything It all went by so fast
I still can't change the past
I always will remember
Everything If we could start again
Would that have changed the end?
We remember

EverythingEverything
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>