

Pink Hearts

Hawthorne Heights

You know you already killed me
You know you killed me well
(Killed me well)
I'm always running on empty
(I'm always running on empty)
I'm such a living hellHearts scribble pink on broken glass
You cut me too deepHere we go, let's lose control again
Turn to dust and burn out our innocence
Call to arms and send out your skeletons
And maybe we'll be okayTake it slow, I'm all alone again
Light a match and burn through some friendship
Call to arms and send out your skeletons
Before it gets too late
And maybe we'll be okay
I'm just a broken record
Scratched and I can't spin
(I can't spin)
You play the songs I know
(You play the songs I know)
I hope this never endsHearts scribble pink on broken glass
You cut me too deepHere we go, let's lose control again
Turn to dust and burn out our innocence
Call to arms and send out your skeletons
And maybe we'll be okay
Take it slow, I'm all alone again
Light a match and burn through some friendship
Call to arms and send out your skeletons
Before it gets too late
And maybe we'll be okay
(Maybe we'll be okay)
Hearts scribbled pink on broken glass
Hearts scribbled pink on broken glass, you cut me, you cut me
Hearts scribbled pink on broken glass, you cut me too deepHere we go, let's lose control again
Turn to dust and burn out our innocence
Call to arms and send out your skeletons
And maybe we'll be okay
Take it slow, I'm all alone again
Light a match and burn through some friendship
Call to arms and send out your skeletons
Before it gets too late
And maybe we'll be okay

(We'll be okay)

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>