

Just Over

Luke Bryan

...
She called and said she wanted to see me
I said, "Yeah that's fine baby drop on by"
I figured I could make it better
Just like every other time we had this fight
Of all the kind of over it could have been I never would have bet on this
I was thinkin' she would come over, stay over, wake up hungover, still head over heels for me
Thought it was something we could talk over, drink over, then it would be over, back to how it used to be
Naw, but it's the kind where the sheets get colder
She don't need no shoulder to cry on
She's gone
She ain't pullin' over, it's just over
When she left the kitchen she left no questions
Except where in the world did I go wrong
But it don't matter where she's headed
She's gone, gone, gone
I was thinkin' she would come over, stay over, wake up hungover, still head over heels for me
Thought it was something we could talk over, drink over, then it would be over, back to how it
used to be
Naw, but it's the kind where the sheets get colder
She don't need no shoulder to cry on
She's gone
She ain't pullin' over, it's just over
Like the page she's turning
Over
Like the life she's starting
Over
Without me
I was thinkin' she would come over, stay over, wake up hungover, still head over heels for me
Thought it was something we could talk over, drink over, then it would be over, back to how it
used to be
Naw, but it's the kind where the sheets get colder
She don't need no shoulder to cry on
She's gone
She ain't pullin' over, it's just over
It's just over
Yeah, it's just over
It's just over.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>