We Could Go Back (feat. Moelogo)

Jonas Blue

Should have, could have, would have, but it's too late Shouldn't catch feelings on a first date 0 to 100, no first base

Ended up with coffee back at your placeEvery night is keeping me awake I keep thinking about all the things I would changeIf I could go back

Tell me would you even, would you still believe in And if we could turn back

Tell me would you even, would you still believe in me?but it's no race

Never a time to find our own pace

Trying to drive feelings that won't go away

Sleep in the bed of my own mistakes

Every night is keeping me awake

I keep thinking about all the things I would changeIf I could go back

Tell me would you even, would you still believe in

And if we could turn back

Tell me would you even, would you still believe in me?I know time waits for no man

I'm standing here now with no plans

Let's go, baby

Go, go, baby

I know time waits for no man

I'm standing here now with no plans

Let's go, baby

Go, go, baby

If I could go back

Tell me would you even, would you still believe in

And if we could turn back (if we could come back)

Tell me would you even, would you still believe in me?

Tell me would you still believe in me

Tell me would you still believe

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by https://www.songlyrics.band/