

Coming Home for Summer

James Arthur

We started in October
Drowned our sins in cold November rain
Thoughts all through December
Prayed for snow to cover up the pain
Been so long under winter's night
Waiting for the sun
Watching the horizon Everybody's coming home for summer
But still feels a million miles away
What a feeling, taste the freedom
There with every bite
Finally we're coming home We shadow-boxed the enemy
Swing until we extradite our fears
Their backed into a corner
Ring the bell, we shed our blood and tears
Like hibernating sun-rays, hoping for the sun
Watching the horizon
Everybody's coming home for summer
But still feels a thousand miles away
What a feeling, taste the freedom
There with every bite
Finally we're coming home Oh, we suffered in silence
Through storms and through violence
We stayed our way
The waves have sub-sided
Clouds have divided
Found a reason to survive
Found the will to stay alive
That will be the last thing that we do
Heading for summer
Back home for summer
Everybody's coming home for summer
(everybody)
But still feels a thousand miles away
What a feeling, (what a feeling)
Taste the freedom (taste the freedom)
There with every bite
Finally we're coming home
Oh, we're coming home
Oh, I'm coming home

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>

