

Pink

Rence

Come and hold my hand
No I don't pretend to know what is best
If I did I'd be on my way up up up (up up up)
Guess for now I'll have to look for better luck

Lately, I've been searching for something
Baby, you been giving me nothing
Everyone wants the world (give it to me) for me (for me)
I really want the world to breathe (to breathe, yes indeed)
Take a breath love (let her be, let her be, let her be, let her be, let her be let her be)
Take it off and see
All the colors all the colors in between
All the colors all the colors in between

People feeling way less familiar
People living lives in the mirror
Me, I beg you to reconsider
How we can find peace without letting it kill us
Black and white like it's so distinct
Please take a second, rethink
Lately all the news in red ink
I think we could use more pink

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>