

Body Bag

Trevor Daniel

We don't talk anymore; I need peace, need sleep
Think I need a body bag 'cause you're killing me
I'm done with all these problems that you're bringing
Too much on my mind now
We don't talk anymore; I need peace, need sleep
Think I need a body bag 'cause you're killing me
I'm done with all these problems that you're bringing
Too much on my mind now

Why don't you leave?
You're killing me
Would've gave you everything
But you didn't believe
Ooh, I've said it a thousand times
I just needed you
If you're done with me, baby, I don't want you
All I ever did was try, it's still not enough
And you're tearing me apart, you don't need my love
It's been every night this week, you've been calling
If you hate me so much, then I'm gone

It's been running through my head, you should call it

If you don't want me for me then

We don't talk anymore; I need peace, need sleep

Think I need a body bag 'cause you're killing me

I'm done with all these problems that you're bringing

Too much on my mind now

We don't talk anymore; I need peace, need sleep

Think I need a body bag 'cause you're killing me

I'm done with all these problems that you're bringing

Too much on my mind now

90 to nothing, I've been on the gas now

Thought you were down to ride, I'm about to blast off

I guess sense I'm no good, leave me in the past, yeah

You want me to feel what you feel, that's the problem

Every time we talk on the phone, you start crying

Don't mean for it to hurt, when I hurt you, I'm trying

I don't want tears in your eyes 'cause what I did

I don't wanna clip your wings, baby, you can fly away

It's been every night this week, you've been calling

If you hate me so much, then I'm gone

It's been running through my head, you should call it

If you don't want me for me then

We don't talk anymore; I need peace, need sleep

Think I need a body bag 'cause you're killing me

I'm done with all these problems that you're bringing

Too much on my mind now

We don't talk anymore; I need peace, need sleep

Think I need a body bag 'cause you're killing me

I'm done with all these problems that you're bringing

Too much on my mind now
