

Crossing Over

Five Finger Death Punch

Perched alone, he sits there broken.
An eldred man with storm clouds setting in his eyes
He counts the sands of time remembering day's gone by
It seemed like yesterday before it washed away
Hey don't wait for me there
Just find your own way
Hey don't wait for me there
Cause I'll be there soon enough
The widow's life ticks out like clockwork
A thousand tears she's cried a hundred time's before
But now that he is gone, she's ready to move on
It all just fell away, it seem's like yesterday
Hey don't wait for me there
Just find your own way
Hey don't wait for me there
Cause I'll be there soon enough
I'll be there soon enough
Hey don't wait for me there
Just find your own way
Hey don't wait for me there
Cause I'll be there soon enough
