

Breadcrumbs (feat. Nico Segal)

Jamila Woods

Why I always feel like I been knowing you since '89
Why come God gave you a smile that turned back time
Who gave us lead to love like this, so we insane
Grandma loved granddaddy even after he forgot our names
Where they do that at?
Guess we better find a new planet
How they get like that?
How come sometimes you can't plan it
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me, guide me back
Today I look like somebody you used to know
Tomorrow I'm a stranger and I better go
All of the boxes in the attic of your mind
But you remember Stevie's song just fine
All I do is think about, is think about
All I do is think about you
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me, guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me back
Leave me breadcrumbs for the ride
To guide me, guide me back
Why I always feel like I been knowing you since '89
I know it's late but the question "What type of love do I deserve?" it was really laying heavy on my mind. I deserve love in a phone call to just see how I'm doing. Love that doesn't want me to change my appearance for a family barbeque. I hope I look in the mirror and see love on my skin. I deserve love, I don't have to question it for you, good morning.
