

Already Gone

Sugarland

[Verse 1]

My mama mapped out the road that she knows
Which hands you shake and which hands you hold
In my hand-me-down mercury, ready to roll
She knew that i had to go
And hang out, make lots of noise
And lay out late with a boy
Make the mistakes that she made 'cause she knew all along

[Chorus]

I was already gone
I was already gone
I was already gone
Life is a runaway train you can't wait to jump on

[Verse 2]

They say the first time won't ever last
But that didn't stop me. The first time he laughed
All my friends tried to warn me the day that we met
"Girl, don't you lose your heart yet"
But his dark eyes dared me with danger
And sparks fly like flame to a paper
Fire in his touch burning me up, but still i held on

[Chorus]

[Verse 3]

The last time i saw him, we packed up my things
And he smiled like the first time he told me his name
And we cried with each other
We split the blame for the parts that we couldn't change
Pictures, dishes and socks
It's our whole life down to one box there he was waving goodbye on the front porch alone

[Outro]

But i was already gone
I was already gone
I was already gone
I was already gone
I was already gone

Hang out, make lots of noise
And lay out late with a boy
Make the mistakes that she made, life is a runaway train
His dark eyes dared me with danger
And sparks fly like flame to a paper, fire in his touch
Life is a runaway train you can't wait to jump on

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>