

L.A. Girlz

Weezer

[Chorus]

L.A. girls, please act your age
You treat me like I have the plague as I gyre and gimble in the wabe
L.A. girls, please act your age
Sweeten up your lemonade and meet me down at Tower 28

[Verse 1]

I think I'm in Whiplash, I'm losing it
Mixing ammonia and bleach
I get off at Pico and sell my possessions
So you will know just how I feel
I love your long hair
But you just don't care
So please help me fathom this world without music
And by the way, when can we talk?

[Chorus]

L.A. girls, please act your age
You treat me like I have the plague as I gyre and gimble in the wabe
L.A. girls, please act your age
Sweeten up your lemonade and meet me down at Tower 28

[Verse 2]

So would you mind if I was pregnant?
I'll sleep on the edge of your bed
Like Dante and Beatrice, we'll light up our candles
But how is this going to end?
The kids are asleep
We're haunting their dreams
And some women swear it's more painful than labor
To die with your sins on your head

[Bridge]

Does anybody love anybody as
Much as I love you, baby?
Does anybody love anybody as
Much as I love you, baby?
Does anybody love anybody as
Much as I love you, baby?
Does anybody love anybody as
Much as I love you, baby?

[Chorus]

L.A. girls, please act your age
You treat me like I have the plague as I gyre and gimble in the wabe

L.A. girls, please act your age
Sweeten up your lemonade and meet me down at Tower 28

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>