

Princes Familiar (Live Unplugged Version)

Alanis Morissette

Please be philosophical
Please be tapped into your femininity
Please be able to take the wheel from me
Please be crazy and curious Papa love your princess
So, she will find loving princes familiar
Papa cry for your princess
So, she will find gentle princes familiar La la la la la Please be a sexaholic
Please be unpredictably miserable
Please be self absorbed much not the good kind
Please be addicted to some substance
Papa listen to your princess
So, she will find attentive princes familiar
Papa hear your princess
So, she will find curious princes familiar La la la la la Please be the jerk of my knee
I've fit you always
You finish my sentences
I think I love you What is your name again no matter
I'm guessing your thoughts again correctly
And I love the way you press my buttons
So much sometimes I could strangle you Papa laugh with your princess
So, she will find funny princes familiar
Papa respect your princess
So, she will find respectful princes familiar
Papa love your princess
So, she will find loving princes familiar
Papa cry for your princess
So, she will find gentle princes familiar La la la la la
La la la la la Please be strangely enigmatic
Please be just like my
