

No Evil

MAGIC!

Woke up in the morning to another perfect stranger
Jumped into the shower to wash off the situation
I can't tell the difference if I'm crying or it's raining
Either way I know that there is something in the change
All I could think of is you in that sundress

And if there's a chance to be with you I promise
That I will speak no evil

And I will see no darkness

And I will only hear your voice

'Til the demons go back to where they belong

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

'Til the demons go back to where they belong

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

Can you take me somewhere where the devil cannot find us?

Rid me of the poison that has only paralyzed us?

I don't wanna waste another moment here without love

And I hope there's still a space in your heart for me
And all I could think of is you in that sundress

And if there's a chance to be with you I promise
That I will speak no evil

And I will see no darkness

And I will only only hear your voice

'Til the demons go back to where they belong

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

'Til the demons go back to where they belong

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)
And all I could think of is you in that sundress

And if there's a chance to be with you I promise

That I will speak no evil

And I will see no darkness

And I will only only hear your voice

'Til the demons go back to where they belong

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

'Til the demons go back to where they belong

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)
Put on your sundress and lead me in the sunshine

Put on that sundress and lead me in the sunlight
(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

No evil, whoa

(Speak no, see no, hear no evil)

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>