

The Only Promise That Remains

Reba McEntire & Justin Timberlake

When the ground beneath you starts shaking, shaking
And you forget the place we came from, came from
When you're lost and looking for a way home
Your way home to me, I'll come out and find you
When the world around you starts moving, moving
And you should wonder if I still love you, love you
If you feel a darkness coming, rising inside
I'll make a light to guide you back home
And after all the sky has fallen down
And after all the water is washed away
My love's the only promise that remains
When your doubts have got you thinking, thinking
And nothing's every really sacred, sacred
And you're afraid you might believe it
Believe in me and I'll give you a reason
Cause the world around us keeps on moving, moving
And there's no doubt that I still love you, love you
So when you feel the darkness coming, rising inside
I'll make a light to guide you back home
And after all the sky has fallen down
And after all the water is washed away
My love's the only promise that remains
My love's the only promise that remains
My love's the only promise that remains
And after all the sky has fallen down
(After all the sky has fallen down)
And after all the water is washed away
(After all the water is washed away)
My love's the only promise that remains, remains
