

Momma's House

Dustin Lynch

I see your face on every street, every corner, couple trees
Even got her name on 'em
I feel your love, I hear your laugh, got them take me way on back
Hurt me memories, I don't want it
Up and down the boulevard
In and out of every bar I'd burn this whole town down
Pick a spot, dig a hole, put them ashes in the ground
Baby, I'd burn this whole town down
If it wasn't for my momma's house, my momma's house
Damn girl, why'd you have to break it like that
Leaving pieces of my shattered heart scattered like glass
I'd burn this whole town down
If it wasn't for my momma's house, my momma's house
I would start it when where we started at the downtown party
Where you kissed my lips and stole my beer
The city park in the dark where we looked up at the stars
Watched them fireworks pop last year
It started under that Texaco sign where you said goodbye
I'd get some gas and drop a match right there I'd burn this whole town down
Pick a spot, dig a hole, put them ashes in the ground
Baby, I'd burn this whole town down
If it wasn't for my momma's house, my momma's house
Damn girl, why'd you have to break it like that
Leaving pieces of my shattered heart scattered like glass
I'd burn this whole town down
If it wasn't for my momma's house, my momma's house Fire red flames, sunsets in the sky
Going out, staying in, staying up long nights
Now I'm waking up alone, wishing I could move on Blocked your number in my phone, thought it help but it don't
I'd burn this whole town down
Pick a spot, dig a hole, put them ashes in the ground
Baby, I'd burn this whole town down
If it wasn't for my momma's house, my momma's house
Damn girl, why'd you have to break it like that
Leaving pieces of my shattered heart scattered like glass
I'd burn this whole town down
If it wasn't for my momma's house, my momma's house (Baby, I'd burn this whole town down)
(If it wasn't for my momma's house, my momma's house)
