

Heartbreak Weather

Niall Horan

I swear there was lightning coming from your eyes
Starting a fire in a hotel room
And, yeah, we were dancing, dancing to Bruno
And I couldn't turn away from you
Yeah, I saw
you smiling, breaking the silence
Telling me just what you want
There in the moment, I was reminded
I haven't felt this way in a while
Blinded by the sparks
We were driving around in the dark
Finding reasons to stay where we are
All of my life, I've been sleep-walk living
Running around the same bars I've been in
It can be so lonely in this city
But it feels different when you're with me
All of my life, it's been heartbreak weather
Thinking to myself it won't get better
It can be so lonely in this city
But it feels different when you're with me
Yeah, it was magic, you were a vision
Watching the way your body moves
Taking your clothes off, you look in the mirror
Telling me just what you want
And I was blinded by the sparks
I was holding you close in the dark
Finding reasons to stay where we are
All of my life, I've been sleep-walk living
Running around the same bars I've been in
It can be so lonely in this city
But it feels different when you're with me
All of my life, it's been heartbreak weather
Thinking to myself it won't get better
It can be so lonely in this city
But it feels different when you're with me
You, that's what I've been missing
Was tangled up and twisted
Now all the clouds been lifted
Lately, my heart's been so empty
You, that's what I've been missing
Was tangled up and twisted
Now all the clouds been lifted
Lately, my heart's been so empty
But it feels different when you're with me
It feels different when you're with me
All of my life,
it's been heartbreak weather
Thinking to myself it won't get better
It can be so lonely in this city

But it feels different when you're with me It feels different when you're with me
