

Way to Go

Empire of the Sun

Surfing snow
Are you ready for
A revolution to show the way
Seven whole weeks until the day Because heartbreak's coming to bend us the wrong way Plays us, memory will change it into old things Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again While hearts beat
It's nothing like before
Dreaming is the home of the brave
Future is the healing of pain
Because heartbreak's coming to bend us the wrong way Plays us, memory will change it into old things Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's
ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again Like a cannonball shot across the floor
We have found a way through the darkest hour
Like a cannonball shot across the floor
We have little time for worry
Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again
Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again
Doesn't matter what's tripping you out, there's ways to go
This is where we get carried away enough to start again
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>