

The Collection

September Mourning

Blessed all the lost without their sight, blessed at the star that kills the light,Blessed all the fallen that escape their crimes,torn from the hands of fate and timeblessed all the flames that swallow thee earth,blessed all the hollow that hide their worth,blessed all the fears that cloud the sky,storms are raging deep inside,Together we will die
together we will fall
together we will rise
so take it all
take it all
take it all.
