

Dreamer (Brooks Remix)

Martin Garrix, Mike Yung & Brooks

I'm a dreamer
Don't tell me not to dream
I got freedom
And that's everything to me It don't matter
What I've got or where I go
I'll find shelter
A million miles from home It ain't easy to keep going when it's hard
To keep shining in the dark when you wanna fall apart But I'm a dreamer
So don't tell me not to dream
I'm a believer
As long as I got something to believe in
As long as I got something to believe in
As long as I got something to believe in
As long as I got something to believe in As long as I got something to believe in I'm a lover
Don't tell me who to love
I'm a runner
'Cause I've got somewhere to run I just listen to the voices in my head
When they tell me I'll always have something to believe in As long as I got something to believe in
As long as I got something to believe in
As long as I got something to believe in
As long as I got something to believe in Hey, hey (you got to believe)
You know you got to believe (you got to believe)
I got to believe (you got to believe in, you got to believe)
Yeah, I got to believe (you got to believe) Ooh, yeah (you got to believe) Hey, hey (you got to believe in) Come on (you got to believe) Ooh, you got to, we got to, she got to, he got to (you got to believe)
You got to believe (you got to believe in)
Hey, hey (you got to believe) In the morning, in the evening
Late at night (you got to believe)
You got to believe (you got to believe in) Yeah
I don't believe, I don't believe
You got to believe
